AIR CLIPPER LOST

Al Spohrer Under Arrest

Alfred "Al" Spohrer, former Boston Braves catcher, was arrested today on warrants charging four counts of larceny from state unemployment compensation recipients.

The arrest of Spohrer, superintendent of the claims division in the East Boston office of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission, was made by Special Officers Patrick Mulvey and Philip Whaland of East Boston station.

In East Boston court, the former baseball player pleaded not guilty to all counts and was released in his own recognizance.

Stock Rally Fails to Hold

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Leading stocks retained much of Thursday's rallying fervor in today's early market proceedings, but late selling cut down many gains running to $1 a share or more and converted others into minor losses.

Motors, rubbers and specialties led the forenoon upswing, but even these yielded most of their improvement near the close.

In the Boston Sunday Advertiser next Sunday, there will appear an editorial "THE AMERICAN RACE" in which William Randolph Hearst gives sound advice on what constitutes "good Americanism."

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, July 29 (INS)—After hours of search in the area where the missing Hawaii Clipper was last reported, the army transport Meigs radioed today that it had found no trace of the plane.

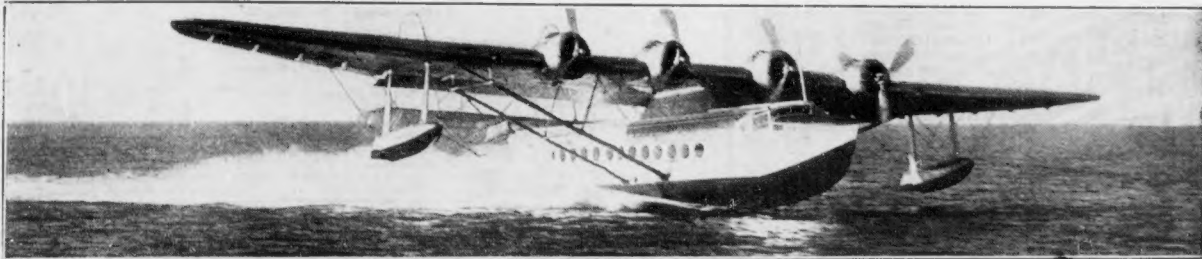

MANILA, July 29 (AP)—The giant Hawaii Clipper with 15 occupants, missing approximately 12 hours on a flight from Guam to Manila, was the object of an intensive search by air, sea and underwater craft today.

Seven planes, eight navy ships, six submarines and an army transport joined the hunt for the $450,000 flying boat which vanished on her 1600 mile flight over the Pacific Ocean.

Fears for the safety of the six passengers and crew of nine increased as the hours dragged by without word since the last message flashed from the clipper's radio at 12:09 p. m. (12:09 a. m. Friday, Boston time).

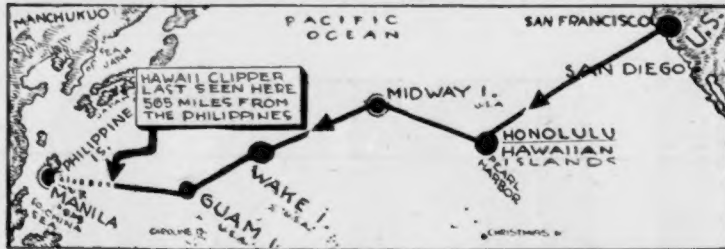

The army transport Meigs, nearest ship to the Clipper's last position, was within the area where it was believed the clipper was forced down.

BUCKS HEADWINDS
 Shortly before 10 p. m. (10 a. m. Boston time) she began sweeping the sea with powerful searchlights. Rockets were sent up every 15 minutes. Flares were lit hourly. Her radio continually sent the Clipper's call letters. Rain made visibility poor and a 15-mile an hour wind made it likely the Clipper, if she landed safely, was blown far from the position.

In her last report the Clipper said she was bucking 14 mile an hour headwinds at an elevation of 9000 feet between two cloud banks.

Flying conditions and visibility had been generally good, but the plane had flown through scattered showers.

No reason was advanced as to why she might have been forced down, but it was pointed out that if she made a safe landing she could float on the Pacific Ocean as well as any boat.

START WIDE HUNT

The army transport Meigs, only 87 miles away from the clipper's last reported position, was immediately ordered to search the area. The navy tender Penguin was sent from Guam carrying a Pan American radio man and an airways mechanic. She was expected to reach the scene Monday.

Seven army planes were ordered to take off from Cavite on Manila Bay at dawn for Legaspi, on the southwestern tip of Luzon Island and closest airport to the position given by the clipper.

From Legaspi the two amphibians and five bombers were directed to search a widespread area for a trace of the flying boat. The planes, each with a flying range of 1100 miles, were instructed to sweep over a path out to sea 70 miles wide, flying 10 miles apart.

LEFT BASE SATURDAY

The Hawaii Clipper, one of three Pan American flying boats in regular service between California and Manila, was flying south of her regular course. Officials here said they did not know why.

Saturday and was due in Manila at 1 a. m. (5 a. m. Boston time) today. The report that she was missing came just at the hour she was due to sweep down on Manila Bay.

This was the first failure of any clipper in transpacific service to report regularly. Only tragedy in Pan American's Pacific flying was the mid-air explosion of the 21-ton Samoan Clipper, piloted by Captain Edwin C. Musick while pioneering for a service to Australia. Seven men were killed when the Samoan Clipper exploded and fell in flames January 11 while dumping gasoline for an emergency landing near Pago Pago Bay.

PENGUIN SEARCHING

The United States Interior Department only yesterday dedicated Canton Island light to the memory of Captain Musick, who pioneered the Alameda-Manila route, and his crew.

The Clipper's strong hull was designed to keep the big flying boat afloat indefinitely unless it were demolished by impact with the ocean.

It was constructed with bulkheads, like those of surface ships, that could shut off various parts of the plane by closing doors.

The ship, equipped with four 800-horsepower Wasp motors, could fly if one motor cut out. Moderately loaded as the ship was, it could keep afloat even if two engines stopped if the pilot "lacked" it to keep it on an even keel.

If undamaged, the clipper's double radio sets could summon aid, even if the ship were forced down on the water. The radio have a range of 1400 miles.

Every advanced instrument for air navigation and one life preserver for each passenger was included in the equipment.

Pope Assails Aryan Drive By Mussolini

By FRANK GERVASI

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, July 29—A clarion call by Pope Pius XI to world Catholicism to fight with all its strength against racial "purity" and "all forms and manifestations of exaggerated nationalism" rang out from the Vatican today.

The Holy See made public an address by the Pontiff to alumni of the College for Propagation of the Faith in which he denounced in terms of almost unprecedented vigor Premier Mussolini's recently-launched Aryanization campaign and lashed out at Italy's "disgraceful imitation" of Germany.

His remarks were made when the alumni called on him at Castel Gandolfo, his summer villa, under leadership of Cardinal Piumasoni-Biondi, formerly papal nuncio to Washington.

Speaking of Catholic Action and the church's apostolic and lay organizations persecuted in Austria and Germany and recently attacked in the Italian press by belweather of the race campaign such as Frinace's, the Pope said:

"To be Catholic means to be universal—not racial, not nationalistic, not separatistic. Catholic Action is the pupil of my eye. It is in the very center of his consciousness and profoundly in the heart of your Pope."

"Catholic Action identifies itself as Catholic life," the Pontiff said, "and what would life be without action?"

"There is talk of raising even further barriers between men and men and between peoples and peoples.

"Now there is someone who has affirmed that between Catholic Action and the Fascist party there is an unbridgeable doctrinal divergence. Big words are these, but crazy words."

"Catholic Action is the life of the church and the Catholic church has a mandate in the world to lead Catholic life. Therefore, to consider Catholic Action is an entity outside the church is an absurdity."

MRS. FRANCIS CARROLL BARBARA CARROLL
Daughter in Dual Role at Father's Trial

Barbara Carroll Balks State Quiz

SOUTH PARIS, Me., July 29—On the testimony of his daughter, Barbara, former Deputy Sheriff James M. Carroll, today, was basing his hope for vindication on a charge he was the killer of Dr. James G. Littlefield.

Through his attorney Francis J. Beauchamp, Carroll, in an exclusive statement to the Boston Evening American, declared:

"Barbara Carroll appearing as a state witness will clear me of this trumped up charge of murder."

Carroll's statement came only a few hours after Special Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph W. Ingalls had held a long conversation with Barbara in the county court house, during which it was learned Barbara on at least two occasions refused to answer questions put to her by Ingalls.

It was also revealed today that Barbara will appear in a dual role in her dad's trial for murder—as a government witness, and also as a defense witness.

As the day for Carroll's trial nears, Attorneys Clyde Chapman and Edward J. Beauchamp today applied for and were granted summonses for 68 persons who will appear as defense witnesses.

Boston Awaits Little Miss Glamour

Shirley Motors Here in Secret

Filled with excitement and anticipation, Little Miss Glamour left New York today on a motor trip to Boston, and some time between 5 and 6 p. m. she is expected to arrive in the Hub.

Little Miss Glamour, of course, is nobody else but Shirley Temple, the world's most famous little girl, and her visit to Boston to see all the historical spots will be one of the last eastern stops on her vacation trip.

A Short Shorts Story

Park Commissioner William T. Long today made short work of the tennis costume controversy between girls of the Savin Hill Tennis Club and the custodian of Billings Field, West Roxbury, by stating that abbreviated uniforms have been banned from Boston playgrounds "for many years" and the ban still holds.

Members of the Savin Hill club had appealed to him to revoke an order barring them from participating in a tennis tournament on the West Roxbury courts if they wore shorts.

"That is one of the rules of my department," Commissioner Long declared.

"It has been in existence for many years and will not be waived."

At the same time Miss Ruth Lee, a director of the Dorchester club, stated her members had called off the tennis game at Billings Field because of the ban.

By actual measurement the club director showed that her shorts came within three inches of the knee and were so pleated and flared that they appeared to be a skirt when the player was in motion.

Because of the wish to keep curious throngs away from the youngster as much as possible, considerable secrecy was thrown over details of the Boston trip and no itinerary times have been given out either for today's ride north or while she is here.

SINGLE STOP PLANNED

Movie star though she is, Shirley yet is only a little girl and she can go through just so much excitement without harm.

The start for Boston was made in New York just before noon, and on the trip every effort was made to slip through cities as quietly as possible.

Only one stop was scheduled, and that for luncheon, the time and place not being given out.

Nor was it disclosed where Shirley, her Mummy and their entourage will stay during the Boston week-end, because wherever the golden-haired little actress chucks her hat is immediately surrounded by crowds when her presence becomes known.

TO VISIT HURLEY

No schedule has been given out for her Boston stay for the same reason—pressing crowds—but Shirley is expected to visit Governor Hurley and Mayor Tobin in courtesy calls and to make various historical trips.

From Boston, she will make a tour of New England shore and mountain places, then will visit Quebec before she starts back for Hollywood, where she is due back on the Twentieth Century-Fox lot September 15.

Gotham Quake Recorded Here

The seismology departments of Harvard and Weston colleges reported that their instruments had recorded two earthquake tremors which shook New York city and environs early today.

Dr. L. Don Lee, director of the Harvard seismographic station, and Rev. Daniel Linahan, S. J., seismologist at Weston, concurred in describing the tremors felt here as "slight." They pointed out the coincidence of a similar shock recorded in their departments almost a year ago.

Wally's New Castle Burns

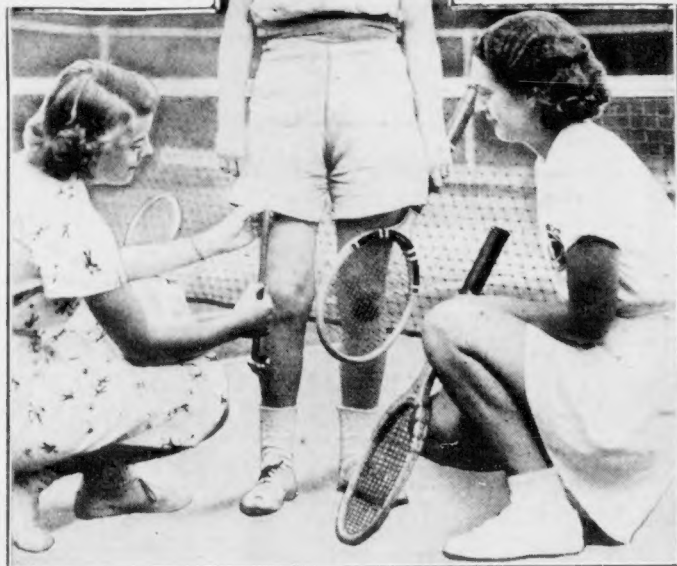

ZELL, AM SEE, Germany, July 29 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor must start house-burning again.

The 12th century Mittersill Castle which the Windsors rented several months ago with the intention of occupying it next September burned to the ground today.

Carpenters, plumbers and painters were at work conditioning the Austrian castle for former King Edward VIII of Great Britain when the fire started. The cause was not known.

2 RESCUED IN FIRE

FALL RIVER, July 29 (AP)—Two men, including William Harbeck, about 65, former widely known circus and vaudeville cartoonist, were rescued today as fire swept the interior of an eight-family dwelling.

AFL Charges Bias by NLRB

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor charged the Labor Relations Board with "bias" and "sophistry" today and broadly intimated that A. F. of L. unions might ignore future board findings against them.

The charge was made by Joseph Padway, A. F. of L. general counsel, in a statement criticising a board order issued yesterday.

That order invalidated an A. F. of L. closed shop agreement with the Serick Corporation at Munsey, Ind., and directed the company to bargain with the CIO United Workers Union.

Al Spohrer Faced By Larceny Charge

pending a hearing next Thursday.
CHARGES FRAMED

After the brief session, Spohrer's counsel, John A. Brennan, who also is counsel for the Unemployment Commission, charged:

"My client is being framed. In his position he had the right to handle money and therefore he could not have committed larceny."

Brennan, who appeared with Attorney Leonard H. Weiner, also of counsel for the UCC, said they were defending Spohrer because the Commission feels that he is innocent.

"These people," declared Brennan, "were receiving compensation illegally, and when asked to return it many of them returned checks that were endorsed.

"Rather than accept endorsed checks, which might lead to confusion, they were asked to cash these checks and return the money. The money was not sent back until the full amount due was received."

FUND SET AT $76

The warrants against Spohrer charged larcenies totaling $76, including $10 from Mrs. Lena Bartrone, Trenton street, East Boston; $22 from Mrs. Josephine Grano, Chelsea street, East Boston, and $20 and $24 from Le Dembrosio, Bennington street, East Boston.

Following the arraignment, Attorney Weiner applied for cross-complaints against Mrs. Batrone, Mrs. Grano and Dembroasio, charging them with making false affidavits in connection with their applications for unemployment compensation.

Judge Charles J. Brown requested, however, that Weiner hold off the applications until after disposal of the charges against Spohrer.

Spohrer's arrest, according to police, came as the result of testimony yesterday at the legislative probe into alleged "gift jobs" under the UCC act.

This testimony included charges that the former ball player influenced compensation recipients to endorse overpayment checks and that he received the cash.

Gunman Robs Woman in Home

Miss Bessie Coffin, 51, of Hancock street, West End, was held up by an armed bandit in her home today and robbed of $65 which she had drawn a short time before from a savings account in a nearby bank.

She told police the bandit gained entrance to her apartment when she opened the door to answer the bell.

Miss Coffin said he forced her into a side room, snatched her pocketbook at the point of a gun and when he found it empty demanded to know where she had hidden her money.

She led him to a closet shelf where she had placed the $65. Threatening to shoot if she made an outcry the bandit seized the money and fled.

GREEK REVOLT CRUSHED

ATHENS, July 29 (AP)—A revolt against the regime of General John Metaxas, dictator of Greece, apparently was quickly crushed today.

Pull Trawler Off Rocks At Winthrop

Grounding on rocks off Winthrop infog and darkness, the Gloucester fishing trawler Sabia was pulled off 10 hours later today by the Boston tug Betty Ross.

Undamaged, the trawler then proceeded under her own power to Boston Fish Pier with her crew of 11.

As fog blotted out the harbor, Sabia went on the rocks of Faun Bar, half a mile off the Winthrop shore. Coast guard craft were sent from East Boston and Nahant in a first fear that the trawler might break up.

Boston police boats, groped through the fog to reach the cutter Africilla in Dorchester Bay, whose owner, Captain Alfred V. Kidd, was stricken with a fatal heart attack. Dr. Joseph Kennedy of East Broadway, South Boston, was taken to the yacht and pronounced Kidd dead.

The Boston dragger Albia, disabled three days in the fog off Great Duck Island with a broken crank shaft, was towed into Portland harbor today by the Coast Guard cutter Algenquin.

Burgin Pledges 372 WPA jobs

New jobs for 372 WPA workers, recently discharged from a federal project at the Squantum naval air base, were promised today by Mayor Thomas S. Burgin of Quincy after a conference with the Boston office of the Works Progress Ad-

The mayor told the unemployed group who had called at his office that a new project would be started on Monday in the Blue Hills reservation and that by Wednesday all the idle men would be at work.

British Fire On Burma Rioters

RANGOON, Burma, July 29 (AP) — British military police fired into riotous crowds of Burmese Buddhists and Indian Muslims today for the first time in four days of fighting in which 47 persons have been killed and more than 300 wounded.

New Rain Adds To Flood Loss

24 hours, were estimated in excess of $1,000,000 today.

At Concord, N. H., a man was dying from injuries received when his automobile plunged into a 15-foot washout on a Bow highway.

Total New Hampshire crop loss from rain this month was set at approximately $4,000,000.

The electrical storm which hit the Greater Boston area today was ushered in by a "Black Friday" pall of darkness, which caused office building lights to be turned on and compelled motorists to use their headlights.

At Gloucester, Joseph Silva, 32, of Friend street, was killed when a boat hit a shed under which he and fellow workers sought shelter at the Cape Pond Ice Company's plant in Eastern avenue.

Knocked down by the bolt, Silva regained his feet, walked to the door, then dropped dead, witnesses said.

LYNN WOMAN FELLEED

Others in the shed were stunned, but not seriously injured.

At Lynn, Miss Anna Bean, 23, of Neptune street, was knocked unconscious when lightning hit a chimney of the J. B. Blood bakery and provision market.

She was held for observation at Lynn City Hospital.

In Malden, William Dulong, 18, was stunned and knocked down a flight of stairs, when lightning hit the chimney of an Austin street house.

Two pieces of fire apparatus, racing to the scene, were involved in accidents.

Engine 2, of Maplewood, operated by Robert W. Murray, skidded on Brimard street and mired itself on the lawn of a nearby home.

Combination A of Ashland street, operated by William F. Mooney, collided at Fuller and Cross streets with an auto driven by Michael J. Rauso of Fuller street, Everett.

Both accidents occurred in blinding rain.

A group of 50 WPA workers, huddled under a tree in Trenton street, Malden, reported that several of their number were stunned by a bolt which hit nearby.

RIVERS RECEDING

In Concord, lightning struck the home of Mrs. William L. Eaton in Elm street, stunning occupants and showering them with ceiling plaster.

Power lines and light poles in Lexington were hit by lightning.

In spite of today's rain in Greater Boston and the forecast of other electrical showers to come, flood conditions in the Charles and Concord river valleys were reported past their height.

Both rivers were receding.

The Merrimack river was reported two feet above normal in central New Hampshire and was still rising today, although more than six feet below flood danger mark.

Lowell, Lawrence and other cities of the lower Merrimack valley were taking precautions, however, against the threat of flood.

Heaviest New Hampshire crop loss, as set by Lawrence Carlisle, director of the state bureau of markets, was suffered by hay farmers.

They reported that their harvest would be at least 50 per cent below the annual average of $5,000,000 to $6,000,000.

The man believed dying at Concord was Russell E. Howard, 23, of Bow.

His automobile dropped into a 15-foot hole in the Concord-Manchester highway on the west side of the Merrimack River.

The crew was taken off in boats.

Schooner Burns, Crew Rescued

HALIFAX, July 29 (Canadian Press)—The Department of Transport reported receipt of a radio message which told of the burning of the French schooner Notre Dame de St. Jean near Cape Pine on Newfoundland's south coast early today.

The crew was taken off in boats.

Boom-Booze Scheme Balked

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 29 (INS)—Disapproving a local liquor store's proposal to form a "bottle-a-month" club, State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commissioner Barnett today ruled:

"Your club would soon suffer from plagiarism, and the public would soon be plagued with offers to join the 'fifth-of-the-fortnight'."

Curley Blasts Hurley on Fund

By ALFRED D. WHELAN

Governor Hurley "stifled" $31,000,000 in federal housing grants for Massachusetts because certain banking interests didn't want them, former Governor James M. Curley charged today in a speech at Hull.

It came in a series of criticisms of the Hurley administration after the former chief executive had listened to Representative John F. Aspell, Democratic leader of the House, present the governor's side of the legislative deadlock on Beacon Hill.

Curley had just finished his blast and had left the Hull municipal building when the governor arrived.

CROWD RETURNS

A large part of the crowd that was leaving the hall returned in the expectation of hearing Hurley's answer to the charges but were told by the governor that he does not intend during the campaign to criticize any of his opponents.

The governor confined his remarks to his appreciation for the invitation extended him by the Plymouth County League of Democrats, which sponsored the Democratic powwow as a feature of its monthly meeting.

Curley charged the present Governor with "doing nothing except firing 25,000 state employes within three months after he took office."

He challenged Representative Aspell to "tell the truth" after the House leader had told of the efforts made by the Governor to secure funds from the Legislature for relief of unemployment.

It was on that subject that Curley charged.

"The present Governor wasn't thinking of the unemployed when he knew there was $31,000,000 in federal funds available last March and he let it rot in committee. The banking interests didn't want that building to go on so he helped them by stifling it in the committee."

Curley charged that Horace T. Cahill, Republican Speaker of the House, was more welcome at the governor's office than leading Democrats. He said that Joseph McGrath, chairman of the Democratic state committee, was invited there only once.

"That was two months ago and then it was to ask Joe McGrath what he thought of the governor's chance for re-election," Curley continued.

"I don't think I'm violating any confidence by stating that McGrath told him he would lose by 300,000."

He then quoted the governor in a surprised query:

"Do you think it will be as much as that?"

BUCKLEY LAUDED

In another thrust at the governor, Curley scored him for doing nothing about conditions in mental institutions and lauded State Auditor Buckley, president of the Plymouth County League, for his disclosures of death and suffering.

The Governor, like any weak executive, gave the problem to a committee for study. Our up and coming state auditor went out and got the facts," he said.

The league passed a resolution, calling upon Governor Hurley to press for confirmation of former Mayor Lawrence Growley of Brockton as judge of probate court, now pending a year.

Before the gubernatorial candidates, a long list of candidates for minor offices were given time to present their plans.

Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly, candidate for promotion to governor, was represented by his brother, City Councilor John B. Kelly, due to a previous engagement. Howard Haine Murphy also spoke on his candidacy for governor. As presiding officer, Auditor Buckley presented two of his own opponents.

Ocean Rally Held by Kelly

An ocean-going rally is the latest wrinkle in Massachusetts politics. It was introduced by Lieutenant Governor Francis E. Kelly when he addressed more than 900 members of the Central Council of Irish County Associations of Greater Boston on their annual harbor trip last night.

House Probers Get Vital Data On U. S. 'Foes'

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP).—Chairman Dies (D.) of Texas said today the House committee investigating un-American activities already has assembled "startling information," two weeks in advance of public hearings.

"It is of such a nature that the public and Congress will insist that we carry on the work beyond the present January 3 deadline," Dies said.

He explained the committee does not intend to call as witnesses Fritz Kuhn, German-American bund leader, or Communist or Fascist representatives.

Babs Loses Her Son's Future

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, July 29 (INS)—A multi-million dollar international marriage, wrecked by wealth and jealousy, came to an end today when Count and Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow made public a formal separation agreement.

Under its terms, the count waived any and all rights to his wife's colossal fortune, but a trust fund is to be established for the couple's son.

The count originally was reported to have demanded $5,000,000 as the price of a divorce and rejected an offer of $250,000 as an "insult." In the separation papers he obtained recognition of his family as one of the best known in Danish nobility and made provision for the time his son may one day inherit the estate.

The statement pointed out that the countess "may not always preserve her Danish nationality"—indicating either that she plans remarriage at some future date or may apply for restoration of her American citizenship.

The Danish nobleman, and his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, "have decided to live apart and separate," an official statement revealed.

Count Haugwitz won the right to determine the future of their two-year-old son Lance, but the Woolworth heiress will retain custody of him during his infancy.

"All matters in dispute" between the famous couple have been settled amicably, the statement declared.

This was taken to include Barbara's charges that the count had threatened her with bodily harm and his own allegations that her home, Winfield house, is not a suitable place for the child to be raised.

The count and countess "have parted on terms of mutual understanding," the statement declared.

PERSONAL

MARY—Will be home soon! Going to buy ring at the good old Washington Jewelry Co.—CORRIGAN.

There was no formal mention of the unidentified "gentleman from London" whom the count allegedly had threatened to "shoot like a dog."

Count Haugwitz won a major victory in the marital squabble when his wife accorded him "parental rights," which under Danish law secure to him ultimate decision regarding the education, religion and professional career of Lance.

Held in $5000 For Girl Attack And Polygamy

Charged with polygamy and with breaking into the Crescent street, Malden, home where a 14-year-old girl fought off a prowler, Arthur L. Volk, 31, of Swains Pond avenue, Malden, was held in $5000 on each count in Malden District Court today.

At request of police, Volk's hearing was continued to August 12. He pleaded not guilty. Unable to furnish bail, he was committed to East Cambridge jail.

The breaking and entering charge against Volk was brought as a result of a struggle which occurred in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keddy in Crescent street.

A daughter, Mary Keddy, awoke to find a man standing beside her bed. He seized her, tearing her nightgown.

In the battle which followed, Mary's three younger sisters, alone with her in the house, came to her aid.

The polygamy complaint against Volk alleged that he had married Pashagian, pretty Malden waitress, while he was still the husband of the former Laura Mitchell of Cherry street, Quincy.

Text of Pact On Babs' Son

LONDON, July 29 (AP)—Following is the text of the settlement between Count and Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow as announced by their solicitors today:

"During the last week or so, as a result of discussions which have been in progress between the count and Countess Haugwitz-Reventlow and their legal advisors, it is now possible to announce that all matters in dispute between them have been amicably settled.

"The count and countess have decided to live apart and separate. The deed of separation, valid in accordance with Danish and with English law, has in fact been signed by both parties.

"The document is subject to approval of the Danish Minister of Justice.

"It is due course it is proposed to take steps to have the terms of deed separation recorded in the English courts in order to give effect to arrangements which have been made regarding the custody of their son, Lance.

HER PRESUMPTIVE

"It may not be generally known that Lance is her presumptive to the Danish family estate of Hardenberg, which is one of the largest estates in Denmark, and that in that capacity Lance may one day be head of a well-known Danish family.

"It has accordingly been agreed in a document signed between the count and countess that the count shall enjoy the position under the Danish law, the nearest English rendering of which is 'parental right' and which secures to him the ultimate decision with regard to education, religion, and professional career of his son.

"At the same time provisions have been made that while the child remains of tender years the countess shall have the care of the child for the greater part of the year, that when he becomes of school age he will spend one-half of his school holidays with the count, and the other half with the countess.

SHARE IN ESTATE

"The count and countess have parted on terms of complete mutual understanding and the count already had had numerous opportunities of seeing his son.

"According to Danish law Lance would have absolute right on his mother's death to share in her estate. As the countess, however, may not always preserve her Danish nationality, she has decided to settle an appropriate sum on Lance forthwith, and a settlement of such a character acceptable to all parties has been executed. The count is one of the trustees of that settlement.

"No other settlements have been made and the count has waived any rights which he may have under Danish law to one-half of the common property of the parties to the marriage."

Fight Radicals, Doherty Urges Vermont Vets

BENNINGTON, Vt., July 29 (AP)—Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, today declared one of the greatest responsibilities of the organization was to promote "Americanism among youth to combat 'waves of radical propaganda.'"

In an address prepared for delivery at the second day session of the state Legion convention, Doherty said "subversive groups" were making "concentrated and industrious efforts" to implant in young minds "radical doctrines and fallacious theories."

He added: "The promotion of Americanism is not the exclusive obligation of any one organization. The great need currently is to interest all patriotic, fraternal and civic organizations to co-operate in formulating and furthering valid Americanism programs."

Doherty charged that "Many of our institutions of higher learning were lending themselves to theories that run counter to American doctrines and principles."

War Machines Save Czechs

(Editor's Note: The significant role being played by the "merchants of peace" who make arms for the peaceful powers is described today by H. R. Knickerbocker, noted foreign correspondent, in the fifth of a series of six articles.)

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PILSEN, July 29.—Peace depends in Europe today to a large part upon "the merchants of peace." They were yesterday grouped with the merchants of death.

They are the armaments manufacturers who make arms for the peaceful powers. Without them the world would be in the midst of the second World War.

Their bad name came from the curious misapprehension that arms in themselves are evil.

Arms in the hands of bad men are bad, but arms in the hands of good men are good, a banal statement not yet recognized in the confused pacifism of persons unable to differentiate between the pistol of a gunman and the pistol of a policeman.

It was the Skoda howitzers which battered down the fortress of Belgium in 1914, I stand beside one of them in the Skoda works at Pilsen, the manager shook his head sadly and said:

"We regret it, but we could not help it then. It was these guns that crushed Belgium."

Skoda was a merchant of death until 1918.

It was the threat of Skoda cannon which checked the German attempt to make another Belgium of Czechoslovakia in May 1938.

The Skoda works once the seat of the aggressor, have now become "the merchants of peace," selling only to the powers which want peace.

BEST IN EUROPE

Emile Skoda gives the Czechs the best heavy artillery, machine guns and anti-aircraft batteries in Europe. They have more of them in proportion to their manpower than any other army.

Their soldiers could have a machine-gun apiece. The whole population of 15,000,000 (minus the 3,000,000 frankly disaffected Germans) could have a machine-gun apiece. They would have them too, except that it requires three or more men to bring up the ammunition and feed the gun.

The country is a machine-guns paradise. Beside the famous Bren machine gun, which furnished the British army with their Bren machine gun, there are four other machine-gun factories.

With this equipment, the Czechs were able to present against the Germans so formidable a force that even the German high command had to admit the possibility that it would take a month to reduce the Czech neighbor.

Had the Czechs not mobilized it may have been possible for the Germans to capture Prague and have the whole thing over before the Czechs or their allies could do anything about it.

But the Czechs got nearly 100,000 men to the frontier and into the forts in six hours.

SAVED BY SPEED

That speed of mobilization plus Czech armor saved the country. Now the Czechs center and a good many neutral observers agree, that they may be able to defend themselves against any and are sure eventually to help from their allies.

Czech resistance would be so strong it would compel the Germans to mobilize.

The moment Germany mobilizes, France must mobilize also.

Neutral military observers agree that France could not afford to wait one hour, because it is said to take the French about two to three days longer to mobilize than the Germans.

With both French and German armies mobilized in full strength and with a war going on between France and Germany, the question of war or peace between France and Germany could have but one issue.

There has never been a case in modern history where two unfriendly great powers mobilized on contiguous frontiers without war resulting.

Britain Maps European Air Limitation Pact

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

LONDON, July 29 (INS).—Great Britain today decided to prepare the diplomatic groundwork for negotiating a European air pact.

In answer to a suggestion from Chancellor Hitler that if Britain initiated an air limitation treaty Germany would be prepared to consider it favorably, the British Cabinet agreed to submit the following proposals to the Reich:

1.—That any aircraft limitation should be qualitative rather than quantitative; that is, restrictions should deal with type of planes, engine, armaments, guns and bombs rather than number.

2.—France should be immediately consulted as a party to such a pact.

3.—As a necessary prelude to an agreement as well as to any other political pact seeking European appeasement, there must be a successful and peaceful solution of the Czechoslovakia dispute boiling over the pre-Nazi Sudeten Czech area.

The British cabinet decided to launch such plans for aerial limitation came in the eve of the arrival here of Chancellor Hitler's personal representative, Fritz Wiedmann, who is scheduled to engage in important conversations with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain this week end.

In addition to possible talks touching on the Independent air pact, Wiedmann it was learned is expected to hand Chamberlain the Reichsfuehrer's message to a compromise proposal to be forwarded by the British prime minister for peaceful disposition of the Czech-Nazi dispute. In the end Viscount Runciman has been appointed neutral mediator.

Progress toward reaching an Anglo-German friendship treaty, however will concern the prime minister during the major portion of their discussions.

Franco Flood Plan Fails

BERNAYE, France, Spanish Frontier, July 29 (INS).—A rise by which Spanish insurgent forces attempted to halt the advancing government troops in Catalonia today slowed but failed to halt the government drive on the Girona front.

Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces captured a dam on the Segre river just above its junction with the Ebro river to halt government forces by means of food water.

As a result the Ebro river rose three feet but the use of the water was so precise to do much damage. A few hours after the river returned to normal the dam was destroyed.

Britain Decides To Probe Bombings

LONDON, July 29 (INS).—As a result of a report that since received from Franco's army Generalissimo Franco's forces had been ordered to send a British commission to investigate bombings of anti-Government British towns, it was decided today.

The commission consisted of two members, expected to leave within the day and probably will be advised of the results of their investigation by the end of the month.

Boston, We're Coming--Slow But Sure

Hike Family Held For Doctor's Data

Their hatchbacking highway trek from Baltimore to Boston brought them to the state capital of Massachusetts.

J. Weaver, who is a partner in Manchester, N. H., said he was in the state highway patrol when he was in the car with the two men.

Weaver said he saw a man and a light-colored car when he was in the car with the two men.

Chief Sargent J. Weaver, who is a partner in Manchester, N. H., said he was in the car with the two men.

"We're going to hold them until I hear from Dr. D. C. V. Moore, who gave them all a physical examination, then we'll decide what to do."

Bold, Bad Boy Is Kiss-Run Culprit

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP).—Elmer Steiner's romantic technique, police said today, was to steal a kiss and ride away—on his bicycle.

Elmer is 14. When arrested last night police said he confessed to hugging and kissing more than 30 women in recent months.

Fourteen of the women victims of the bicycle riding Romeo identified him.

After the show-up police said Elmer was not lying when he told them he only picked at tractive women.

Train Crushes Braintree Man

John Cahill 65, of Hobart street, Bismarck, suffered amputation of his right leg, as a result of an accident while at the Wellston station of the New Haven railroad. The injured man was discovered by the police while a Wellston train was en route Quincy point. The station agent called to the police and they found him where he was lying on the tracks.

MILEAGE YOU CAN MEASURE!

Test after test proves that Jenney Solvenized Gasoline increases mileage because it dissolves gum, attacks carbon, improves compression, saves gasoline vapor from leakage. Many motorists say Solvenized gives them 2 to 3 more miles per gallon.

Prove it in your own car. Use Solvenized regularly for a reasonable period; keep a record of miles traveled and gasoline purchased. You'll find that this amazing gasoline gives you more mileage than you've ever had before, and more power, faster get-away. Take advantage of it today.

FOR EVEN GREATER SAVINGS

use Jenney Solvenoil—perfect teammate for Jenney Solvenized Gasoline. Solvenoil is the Extreme Pressure oil which modern high-compression motors need. It forms a tough film over all moving parts; reduces friction and wear; reduces carbon needs; fewer additions between oil changes.

Gilbert kept company with me for almost a year before we were married.

When he first told me about how his wife and baby had died, he said it was all on record at Somerset City Hall.

My sister went there and was unable to find the record.

But Gilbert said it all happened in New Hampshire, a long time ago, and probably the record had never been sent back to Massachusetts.

Bossy Gets New Gas Law Fine

AMERICAN CITY NEWS SERVICE

NEW YORK, July 20.—A fine of $100 was levied today by the Massachusetts State Police against a Boston driver for violating the new gas laws.

The driver, who was caught by a police officer, was fined for driving a car with a defective gas valve.

The fine was the highest ever levied for a violation of the new gas laws.

The new gas laws were passed last year to improve the safety of the state's highways.

Fishing afloat has always made an appeal in Florida . . . Driving from Miami Beach to Miami across the Causeway or over the Venetian bridge, you see thousands of fishermen . . . More than 200,000 fishing and hunting licenses have been issued in Massachusetts, which gives an idea of the vast number of people interested in these sports . . . It isn't necessary to have a license to go salt water fishing . . . And traffic officers don't hand you a tag for parking yourself on a friendly bridge or pier with a fishing rod or line in your hand.

Oyster Bars in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS has more oyster bars than any city in the United States . . . When General Foch visited New Orleans during his American tour he was dined at Antoine's, one of the world's most famous eating places . . . It is there that they serve oysters a la Rockefeller . . . The last time I dined there it was in the company of Bob Quinn, then owner of the Red Sox, Jack Maloney, the late Eddie Hurley and Mel Webb . . . They have a sign at Antoine's which I always liked . . . It reads:

No music. No flowers. Just food.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD Alma Sheppard, who is $\square\square\square$ to drive Dean Hanover of the Hanover Stable in a special exhibition at Agawam Park, is a youngster without fear. Last fall this capable young lady made a world's record for a lady driver of 1.58 1/2 in a special exhibition at Lexington, Ky. . . . Lawrence B. Sheppard, Alma's father, offered her \$100,000 to buy the fastest horse in the world to be able to make a gift of the former trotting champion to his daughter. . . . Allan Wilson, Walter Cox, Bruce Wetmore and other sportsmen who have driven trotters and pacers will tell you of the many dangers in this hazardous sport. . . . Despite these risks, 12-year-old Alma is already looking forward to her next attempt to shatter the world's record.

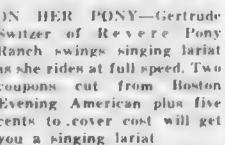

PERSONS associated with former Governor James M. Curley in his campaign for governor say he still likes the smell of political gunpowder and is at his best in a hard fight. Mrs. Curley has told intimates that her husband was never happier than he has been since he started his present campaign. . . . That is a rather startling green tie Tommy Carens, vice-president of the Edison company, has been wearing. . . . No need to use electric light with Tommy's tie in the vicinity. . . . Carens recently took time out to conduct a successful dance at the Hatherly Country Club, North Scituate.

America Is Loser

The Editor Says: Francis B. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State and chief of ballyhoo for the trade agreements program, made elaborate claims in behalf of the new tariff-making regime, in his recent address before the Institute of Public Affairs.

Mr. Sayre said "The trade agreements program is important because it means building secure foundations for the prosperity of the factory worker and of the farmer of the manure for the trader—in short, of every group of the population. But it has another profound significance. It means building secure foundations for peace."

The editor's assertion not only runs contrary to the facts in the contemporary situation, but also represents an extraordinary confusion of thought.

The record of history shows that so-called freer trade, namely, an unrestricted scramble for foreign markets, constitutes a principal cause of war.

THE TRUE FACTS are given by Mr. George N. Peck. Disputing Mr. Sayre's contention, this former special foreign trade advisor to President Roosevelt, in a notable series of interviews in the Hearst Sunday newspapers, pointed out:

"The reciprocal trade agreement legislation was passed in 1934. How are its benefits shown in such world sore spots as Germany, Spain and Japan? The Underwood Tariff Act slashing tariff rates in 1913, of course did not prevent the World War, our participation in it.

"Incidentally the revival of the Free Trade fallacy will be to appreciate our external situation while removing the bans for our internal peace and harmony."

IN PLAIN LANGUAGE, THE HULL-SAYRE PLAN HAS RESULTED IN SLASHING AMERICAN TARIFF RATES. IN THE FIRST SIXTEEN AGREEMENTS, ON 447 ITEMS, WHILE NONE WAS INCREASED AND MANY OTHERS WERE BOUND FOR THREE YEARS ON THE FREE LIST OR AT EXISTING LOW LEVELS.

Similar attacks upon the program, wars, official and unofficial, have developed in various parts of the world, and worse wars are impending.

Peace has not been secured by the betrayal of American industry and labor and the sacrifice of American prosperity.

WAR MEMORIES are revived by the dispatch from England that announces the death, in Birmingham, of Jack Judge, who wrote "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

Every veteran of the conflict "Over There" recalls that famous song, with the haunting melody and verses dear to men far from home.

It was, as has been truly said, "a soldiers' anthem which actually helped win the war."

Jack Judge has gone the "long, long way" to the Tipperary of eternity, but the words he wrote and first sang on New Year's Day, 1912, will live forever in a million veterans' hearts.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
WASHINGTON, July 29

THE political stage seems set for plenty of mud-slinging, after the primaries are out of the way, in which respect the congressional elections will be the curtain raiser for 1940. Since all the best vocabularies are possessed by the New Dealers and this is by no means confined to the hired press agents, and there are few phrase-makers on the other side, most of the mud will probably be found going in one direction.

It is a faing common to the whole reform movement in Washington to ascribe unworthy motives to any able, intelligent and hard-working man who opposes the reformers, who have little ability, except in the field of money spending.

The point is mud, in the absence of legitimate weapons, is the only device of the reformers.

One of the past masters in this line is Harry Hopkins, whose chief claim to fame is the assertion that he was elected to be a senator, not a damned dumb to approve the finer things of life.

The other day Mr. Hopkins in the evening phrase belovéd an investment of more than 16,000,000 Americans in one wholesale dab of silver.

It was in the occasion of his second venture into politics, when he declared and with reason, that the beneficiaries of the administrative reforms are for Roosevelt.

"Suppose a man told other workers he had voted for Landon in 1936. Would you want me to say that you would not want to see him to see his opinion?"

IN THIS very crude and unpolished speech of the government's greatest spending agency, it is asserted that the 16,881,913 Americans men and women who voted for Governor Landon in 1936 were insane.

Now it is probably demonstrable that these men and women who voted for Landon were no crazy that they had acquired a little property felt that they had a stake in their country, and that they represent generally the people who earned and saved, and paid in taxes the billions which Mr. Hopkins has blown in.

This investment of more than 16,000,000 Americans probably represents the mean low water mark, thus far, of the 1934 campaign. But the elections will not be held until November. Mr. Hopkins has plenty of time to outdo himself.

WHEN Commander Charles E. Bessent altered his opinion about supplying American helium gas to Germany, Secretary Ickes smeared him with the Dippant remark that this distinguished naval officer had changed his mind after being wine and dined in Berlin. It is beside the question, of course, that Mr. Ickes himself has changed his mind about exporting helium to Hitler.

On the recommendation of the national munitions control board and the Secretary of the Interior—an allotment of 17,900,000 cubic feet of helium gas was granted on November 23, 1937.

A good many American officials have changed their mind about selling this gas to German interests, but Commander Bessent is the only one to have been creaked down on.

The incident is typical of the New Deal attitude towards anybody who dreams.

The Brighter Side
Oldest Platform
Still the Strongest

By DAMON RUNYON

Copyright 1934 by King Features Syndicate, Inc. International copyright secured.

IF A FELLOW came along and told us he was a candidate for public office on a platform based on the Ten Commandments and we believed him sincere, we would vote for him as sure as shootin'.

Well, now, that is what a fellow by the name of W. Lee O'Daniel told the people of Texas and he has won the Democratic nomination for Governor, which is equivalent to election in the Lone Star State, and the fact he has befuddled the sophisticated editorial and political minds of the nation is a caution to cats.

They have been quick to analyze and explain his success every which way. They argue that he must have bewitched the Texas voters with his lovely music, which is very terrible music any way you take it, and with a lot of glowing promises about old age pensions and whatnot but they sort of glide around what we think may have been the biggest factor in his success—his declaration that his platform was based on the Ten Commandments.

Naturally the sophisticated editorial and political minds are unable to understand a simple fact: That the average man of common sense and common decency is not a philosopher.

He is not a philosopher, but he is a man who knows what he wants and he is not afraid to say it. He is not a philosopher, but he is a man who knows what he wants and he is not afraid to say it. He is not a philosopher, but he is a man who knows what he wants and he is not afraid to say it.

W. Lee O'Daniel is not a philosopher, but he is a man who knows what he wants and he is not afraid to say it. He is not a philosopher, but he is a man who knows what he wants and he is not afraid to say it.

This belief is that in what many claim is the most sophisticated and Godless age in American history, there still are millions and millions of men and women who hold to the oldest and best teachings in the world and to live up to them. We never hear from these men and women. They seldom have the opportunity of making their voices heard over the land.

Probably they are always happy and grateful for a vote and a man like W. Lee O'Daniel comes along proclaiming about what is in their hearts and minds.

they accept him as at least the chance to express themselves. Maybe he is not the man they think, but in any case he is the man who gives them a form of satisfaction.

WHEN I feel that we are putting this very badly, but what we are doing is saying that W. Lee O'Daniel is winning a political battle in which he put forward just a one of his strongest arguments for the support of the people. It is not a proof that religious faith is not dead, and after that we know how he turns out. We grant that he is but a minor figure, yet the population of Texas is no different fundamentally from the rest of the population of the United States, and it is conceivable that a national campaign will one day be won on a platform based on the Ten Commandments. It is the platform that may one day win the world.

We know that only part of W. Lee O'Daniel's vote in Texas came from his declaration that his platform was based on the Ten Commandments and still be able to see in his success a light in the darkness of sophistication.

We will allow that his opponents believe in the Ten Commandments, too, but apparently they did not make an issue of them and what we need in this sophisticated era is more men who are willing to make an issue of the Ten Commandments. We have lost touch with them. We have become so far from them that many of our people have forgotten what they say and what they mean and violate them in spirit and in action every day of their lives.

We are always a little skeptical of political promises and we are quite sure that W. Lee O'Daniel has made some that he will scarcely be able to fulfill, but if he governs the State of Texas in the general spirit of the Ten Commandments he cannot go far wrong and it will be one of the best governed States in the Union.

One Word Led to Another

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

INSPECTOR HYRNES has always said that Adam Worth was as smart a lad as ever threw himself on the mercy of the court.

He was in the Ocean Bank plundering in 1929, but tossed his share to the international crooks. His pals Bullard and Marsh, stole $100,000, migrated to Canada, were extradited to White Plains and gave Attorney Smith a retainer of $1000 to defend them. On the way home Smith's pocket was picked of the money, Billy Forrester and his volunteers dug a tunnel into the White Plains Jail. Everybody escaped, including the jail cat. Eventually Adam went to England.

LATER, a turnkey thought the jail cat followed Adam because Worth had trouble with his liver. And so did the cat. Butchers don't throw it in any more with a pound of lamb chops.

CERTAINLY, Scotland Yard will be glad to have Good-bye to Adam if and when he sails for New York.

Garbo Set to Portray 'Life of Mme. Curie'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

ON ROUTE TO NEW YORK, July 20—Paused in Chicago between trains just long enough to see that Garbo's best friend and many believe her secret admirer, Leopold Stokowski, docks in New York August 15.

Apparently "Garbo" is leaving for home just as she has been "labeled" as the greatest of "superstars." And here as even more of her big news. She probably will realize her cherished ambition to play "The Life of Madame Curie" on the screen.

This is the biography of the eminent woman scientist which was so ably written by her daughter, Marie Curie, and will appear in the near future. It is the story of a woman who was a pioneer in the field of physics and chemistry, and who was the first woman to win a Nobel prize.

Wuxtree! War Between Joe Louis and Hitler!

A black and white portrait of a young man with dark, wavy hair, wearing a suit jacket, white shirt, and a patterned tie. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a neutral expression.

Gentleman John asks our Ambassador to enlighten the German people that their flight films are an impudent fake. Truth and accuracy request that they be shown how Joe chopped Max into lumps of hasenpfeffer. He wants the Hon. Hon. Weiser to put on his toy-hat and good-braid and Ambassador Plat to thump Herr Hitler's desk with the stick which shows him a little of the American way of doing things. A funny portrayal of our country is shown in the film.

The climax of the Nazi film, according to U. S. correspondents, shows Louis driving a blow to Max's left kidney, the film being "designed" at that point to permit the commentator to lecture on the "flexibility" of the punch which, he says, should have disqualified the boxer on the spot. The commentator then goes on to explain the terrific internal consequences of such a sock and how the human anatomy is not built to withstand such brutality. The commentator's remarks made it appear that this scene was a "technical" one, and that the film was intended to show Max's "flexibility" and his head knocked out while the commentator is at the audience that were the Schmeling protesting vainly, but vociferously, to Professor Adolf Ermanov, that he has been "upgraded" to the "new" laws of legalized right war. It looks as though Max's "technical" knock-out in the film is the original version, his "technical" knock-out stage was an explosive gut.

...the people have been left a task to kick up one's heels and get on with it. The people have to fight international imperialism and on an international scale. The people have to be left to themselves and to their own fate. The people have to be left to themselves as citizens of other nations. The people have to be left to themselves in the hands of the human beast. The people have to be left to themselves as a means of lighting the tiny flames of a small, burning fire. Nothing is more useful to do than to let the people be a mean, focal hatred based on national fear.

Well, equally ridiculous is Gentlemen John's squabble to Americanize soccer. Why doesn't he do as the football squabbles do in some few universities, just break off athletic relations between his man and Mr. College?

Greyhound Races At Agawam Park Rockingham Has Fine Racing

By JACK CONWAY

GREYHOUND runs at Agawam Park today, so I am heading for the upstate track. It will be the first time I have ever seen this magnificent trotter in action.

A true world's champion, Greyhound has attracted as much attention as War Admiral.

Mr. Boston

Greyhound runs twice at Agawam, today and Tuesday. He will be a heavy favorite to win both races, but in these days of surprises one can never be sure about the winner of a major sports event until the numbers are up. It is expected that one of the largest crowds ever to visit Agawam Park will be on hand to watch Greyhound in action. The western part of the state and Connecticut have always supported the trotters and pacers which is why Agawam Park makes an ideal spot for the Grand Circuit races that will continue through Saturday of next week.

Rockingham Park Closes Tomorrow

THE PRESENT RACING season at Rockingham, which closes tomorrow, and Raring Spectator, which will have the usual high class card of racing. It is expected that the fair season has been as good as over, and the fair will close.

There has been an increase in the class of racing at Rockingham, and the entries to the various races have filled easily. The high caliber of the racing at Lou Smith's track was maintained even during the last few days.

From Rockingham the thoroughbreds head for Narragansett Park which will open on Monday. Judge James E. Dooley and his associates have Narragansett opened up for the opening parade.

The Narragansett meeting will continue through September 10 and should be one of the most successful in the history of the track.

The recent action of Narragansett Park stock indicates that persons close to racing look for a successful financial season at the Pawtucket track. From a low of $2.30 last fall, the price of the Narragansett stock has moved up to around $6.

Narragansett Park officials say they must make a wise decision when it ruled out the races in the winter. There will not be any long post parades and delays at the post in an effort to lessen the mutual handle.

The bottom will have to buy their mutual tickets early as they will be shut out.

Long post delays take away interest from racing. They keep racers at the track at a time when they should be on their way home. They also ruin the favorite's chances of winning. The favorites as a rule carry top weight, and cannot be expected to win if they are delayed 15 minutes or so in getting off.

You can stop the greatest horse in the world if you put enough weight on his back, and then delay the start of a race.

Casey to Wrestle Jack Marshall

STEVE CASEY, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, will wrestle Jack Marshall in one of the mat bouts at the great charity card that Mayor Maurice J. Tobin will present at Fenway Park on Monday afternoon.

Casey recently successfully defended his world's title against Dick Shikat, and as a result is in good condition for his meeting with Marshall. The Irishman will show at his best.

Jack Sharkey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will referee one of the boxing matches.

A splendid boxing program has been arranged, and it will keep the big crowd entertained during the ten-mile road race that will be run off around the field.

There will be three ball games. Cy Young and Tris Speaker will umpire the ball games.

Judge Emil Fuchs, who has been assisting Mayor Tobin in putting on the big charity day, says he looks for a crowd of 30,000 persons. The Judge says almost 25,000 tickets have already been disposed of through city and state agencies. The state has given its full support to Mayor Tobin in his effort to raise money for Boston's worthy poor.

There will be some last minute workouts at Fenway Park of the baseball teams that will represent the fire and the police departments. These teams are certain to furnish interesting games as will the city and state teams, and the last between the crack

Levinson Triumphs Over Monahan, 4 Up

Sandy Burr Lad Folds on In-Nine

By Associated Press

After a long and hard battle, Sandy Burr Lad, 17 years old, of the New England Club, folded on In-Nine, 4 up, in the final round of the American League tournament.

Both went out in 37 but when they made the turn, young Monahan started spraying his wooden shots and lost the first three in-ward holes. The match wound up on the 11th green, after Monahan had missed up that hole by tripping his drive, blasting out neatly and then missing a short putt as the champion held out for a par three to give him the match.

LEVINSON CLARE

Edmund Labbutt, of Marlborough, made a good start in the first round of the tournament, but he was defeated by a 4 and 3 in the first round.

Carl Tofted, of Weymouth, was the first to hole in a par 3, found himself six up on young Dick Leonard of Nahant, N. H., and the Bay State player folded.

Klinger

Lost to Pirates

NEW YORK, July 29 (INS)—Bob Klinger, whose pitching is one reason why the Pirates are out in front in the National League, will be out of action because of a sore arm for at least a week, Pie Traynor, the Bucs' manager, disclosed today.

The rookie hurler, whose record is eight won and four lost, traces the soreness to a night game in San Francisco during spring training. He confessed that until recently he had been able to pitch the soreness out, but his ineffectiveness in his last few games compelled him to consult a specialist.

Midgets Race At Medford

Greater Boston's midget auto racing fans will have another chance to see the progress of this season's New England championship series at Medford's Riverside Park Speedway tonight.

The list of entries is headed by Dick Sawin, Philadelphia lad, whose Harley-powered midget has been a top-ranking performer all season.

Among others who will show their skill are Bob King, Waltham; Fred Dutton, Lynn; Ollie Miner, last year's champion; Charlie Street, Don Le Clear and Rufe Anderson.

Three trials start at 7:15 p. m. and the first heat rolls off promptly at 8:15.

Steele

To Quit Ring

TACOMA, Wash., July 29 (AP)—Manager Eddie Miller said today Freddie Steele, dethroned middleweight boxing champion, would retire from the ring to "enter business" here.

Miller said he would sign Steele to a new five-year contract as the still youthful veteran of 140 battles would be unable to fight without Miller's consent. He said Steele was in full accord with the plan.

Packing a Punch

LIGHTWEIGHT KING Lou Ambers wraps one of his money maulers in protective bandage under the admiring eyes of Sixto Escobar as he prepares to mussy up a few of his sparring partners at his training camp at Summit, New Jersey. The Herkimer Hurricane will defend his title against that ambitious title-collector Henry Armstrong on August 10.

Two Race Closes Tonight

The half-hundred Park League race will close tonight with four of the five games billed having an effect on the final disposition of the playoff positions.

Mass Knitting and St. Augustine have won their divisions; Rosindale Town club can't be displaced from second place in the west division, while the Hyde Park Tribunes are safely in third place in the west. From there on it's anybody's guess as to what will happen tonight.

FULLERTON ON HILL

Johnny Delang's Holy Name club which handed the Mass Knitting a game in the last inning last night, will send Curt Fullerton to the mound in an effort to beat the Casays and maintain their hold on the runner-up spot in the east section. This will be no easy task, even for the former major league hurler, as the Dorchester Solon will send Bud Davis to the hill, with Bub Walsh behind the platter. Around the horn will be Sheehan, Johnny Galuzian, Norm Plote and Buddy McLaughlin, with Frank Cavanaugh, Bob Curran and Frank Catarus in the field. This is a formidable array and the fans will pack Fallon field to see the crucial tilt.

In the same division, the Brighton Civics, now holding the fourth playoff spot by one point over the McDonough, will send either Barney Pails or John McLaughlin to the mound at Cleveland Circle against the Agnews. The latter club will use either Harold Hazelton or Alton Winkley, as they in turn are battling to finish ahead of the Maddens for the last playoff spot in the west division.

PLAYOFFS AHEAD

The McDonoughs, battling to the last and not discouraged by losing to the Maddens in the last frame last night, will shoot the works at Bill Benson's St. Augustines at Lee Field. The Maddens, the surprise pack of the loop by its gallant finish, must step to beat the Wilsons at Marilla street.

After 11:30 game tonight the managers will meet at the office of Bill Mullen, director of the league, and arrange for the playoffs, which will start next Monday.

'Tarzan' Captures N. H. Mud Battle

SOMERSWORTH, N. H., July 29

(AP)—Ellison "Tarzan" Brown of Bradford, R. I., former Boston A. A. Marathon winner, could qualify today as something of a "mudder" after running the last three miles of a 10-mile race in a driving rain to finish 50 yards ahead of Johnny Kelley of Arlington, Mass.

Brown's time was 50 minutes, 15 seconds or 34 seconds faster than Kelley's. The Rhode Islander took the lead at the halfway mark.

The next five finishers in order were Andrew "Hawk" Zamparelli, Medford, Mass. 1937 winner; Charles Boover, Haverhill, Mass.; Leslie Pawson, Pawtucket, R. I.; Robert H. Delong, Amesbury, Mass.; Clarence DeMar, Keene, N. H.

Night Ball Lucrative

BROOKLYN, July 29 (AP)—Baseball under the arc lights at Ebbets field is an established success. Brooklyn Dodgers officials agreed today as they scanned attendance figures for their first four night games.

The after-dark inaugural on June 15, when Johnny Vander Meer pitched his second straight no-hitter, drew 38,748 customers. After that came 25,517 for the June 21 game with Pittsburgh, 18,896 for the June 29 game with Boston, and 34,414 for yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Cub officials frankly admit that the same four games, played in the afternoon, would have drawn a total of no more than 35,000 fans.

Then Dizzy Got the Gate

DIZZY DEAN dropped in to see his old pal Jimmy Wilson in the Phils dugout, and gave him a few laughs. Umpire Reardon didn't like Dizzy's humor and gave him the old bounce into the grandstand with the paying customers. Wilson's laughter didn't continue long for the Pirates tagged the Phils with a 5 to 2 defeat.

Armstrong Title Bout IN Red

By the Associated Press

Ambers and Armstrong may lay one of those great big eggs from a financial standpoint . . . In the four night games at Ebbsfield so far the Brooklyn Dodgers have pulled in 117,369 fans and have taken the club out of the red.

Jimmy Johnston flew to the coast to make arrangements for Bob Pastor's fight with Maxie Rosenbloom next week . . .

Lou Ambers

Joe Engel's Chattanooga ball club is ready to start a fund to buy Doug Corrigan a plane if anybody will send in any dough . . . Old "Showman" Joe probably would put up all the potatoes himself if he could guarantee Corrigan would make his first personal appearance in the Lookout ball archard.

BOYS GET HOT

Some of the schools in the South which have been trying to be amateur (and stay in the football biz) will untie the benchroll and go after the freshmen in a big way this summer . . . Business is off 50 per cent at Tony Galento's joint since Tony has been laid in and can't get around to bellow greetings to the customers.

Charlie Grimm probably will have another big league connection next summer . . . Around Broadway they'll bet you John Henry Lewis doesn't get to first base in his proposed suit against the New York Athletic Commission—which is to say it'll never reach the courts . . . After all, the commiss merely told John he'd have to come in and fight a guy, or else—and John Henry rode the else.

YANKS MAKE DISCOVERY
The Yanks are finding out Rookie Pitcher Steve Sundra can kill some things besides egg omelets—same being a horseshoe . . . Young Bobby Riggs has unheated his racquets in no less than 18 tournaments this year already.

Dan Daniel, who usually has the straight dope says the Yanks once turned down Gabby Hartnett for $2500 because he "couldn't hit" . . . How! . . . Dutch Clark of the Detroit Lions will be starting his 15th season as a football player when his team begins practice this year.

Tom Sweeney of the Worcester (Mass.) Evening Gazette, says Al Schacht is knocking 'em dead up there—as usual . . .

Some of the New York papers are blasting the boxing commission for refusing to recognize young Al Hostak . . . After all, they argue, if wasn't the kid's fault Steele got in bad by running out of a challenge from Apostoll.

COONEY BUSIEST OF BEES

REDS' SLUGGERS STUNG AT BEEHIVE

By WALTER KILEY

Prettiest picture in baseball is the sight of the versatile Johnny Cooney ranging the rightfield pastures at the Beehive, a 36-year-old veteran with more dash, fire and spirit than most of the youngsters years his junior.

Appearance of the Cardinals in Boston today recalls that they refused to sell or trade Cooney to the Giants early this spring, fearful that his presence with the New Yorkers might aid the latter to beat out St. Louis for the pennant . . . The Cardinals are out of the pennant race. They've turned out to be the biggest "bust" of the season. The Giants are still fighting it out. But Cooney has been the "saviour" of the Bees, a quiet, conscientious worker, taking good and bad breaks alike, and moving about to the various spots in the outfield and infield as needed and playing them all in expert fashion.

Charles Dillon Stengel brought Cooney back to Boston. President Bob Quinn of the Bees was a bit doubtful of the move, but now is one of Cooney's greatest admirers and the first to admit the wisdom of Stengel's judgment.

To the best of our recollection, Johnny has yet to strike out as a member of the Swarm. While not a great hitter, he still is one of the most dependable Boston batters and can do what many of his teammates can't do—hit behind the runner. He is fleet-footed and thinking, and as Stengel says, "He gives a 100 per cent performance all the time."

Bob Grove and Johnny Marcum are Beehive spectators these days. Grove isn't yet certain when he'll be able to quit town for the trip West to join his mates. The "dead arm" is still an unknown quantity.

Ebbie Fletcher continues to prove what Stengel has always insisted that he can hit to left field if he'll only try hard enough. He has turned up with doubles to deep left in each of the last two games. And his improvement on the bases is marked.

Bobby Reis' pitching was a lot better than it appeared in his losing performance. He has a grand slinker, one of the best, with a big break that fools the best hitters. It is a very fact that he made six assists, himself, shows how hard it is for rivals to get a hold of it.

Bobby Reis

Ival Goodman has little cause to like the Beehive. He never once came near adding to his list of 26 homers during the series with the Bees. The best he could do was a triple in the final game.

Wally Berger, Goodman, Frank McCormick and Ernie Lombard represent four of the five leading National League hitters. How their batting averages suffered in the four-game series here. McCormick led them with five hits in 16 times up, for an average of .312. Berger got three out of 16 for .188. Goodman, four out of 17, for .235. Lombard three out of 16, for .214.

American Trio In Canadian Semifinals

LONDON, Ont., July 29 (INS)—Three Americans and Rose Somerville, Canadian amateur champion, today took off in the semifinals of the Canadian amateur golf tournament.

In the quarterfinals, Ed Adams of Columbia, Mo., defeated Phil Farley of Montreal, 1 up; Ed Kingsley of Salt Lake City, Utah, beat Bobby Proctor of Edmonton, Can., Ross Somerville 3 and 2; Ken Savage, also of Salt Lake City, whipped Johnny Riddison of Calgary, 4 and 3; and Somerville, dubbed Larry "Biscuit," fellow Londoner, 7 and 6.

Somerville took on Savage today while Adams opposed Kingsley.

Black Wave Wins Spa Test Stakes

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Black Wave, daughter of Sir Galahad, 3d, sporting the silks of Mrs. R. A. Van Cleave's Nyrdie Stable, breezed to an easy victory over 11 other three-year-old fillies in the seven furlongs of the Test Stakes at Saratoga.

Running the distance over a slow track in 1:25 4-5, Black Wave finished with three lengths to spare and her backers took $3175 and a purse back to 16 to 5.

There was a dead heat for second money, the camera being unable to separate William Woodard's Anafame and Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Creole Maid.

22-MILE SWIM IN 7 HOURS

NEWARK, N. J., July 27 (INS)—Adam Majewski, 27-year-old factory worker, felt none the worse for his 22-mile swim from Newark to the statue of Liberty which he covered in seven hours.

Shared Hubby Jailed—Over the protests of Wives No. 1 and No. 2 (above), Gilbert Tochterman, 29-year-old Cambridge truckman, was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction today.

Lightning killed a man at Gloucester today, seriously injured a woman at Lynn and stunned other persons in Gloucester, Lynn, Malden and Concord.

Widespread damage was caused throughout New England by electrical storms and cloudbursts of record severity.

Central New Hampshire reported unprecedented 12-hour rainfall, reaching a maximum of 10.86 inches in the Contoocook river valley section, near Concord.

His two attractive young wives, one of whom sobbed that she was dying, pleaded in vain for Gilbert Tochtermann, bigamist, during a tense, dramatic scene in East Cambridge court today.

Wife No. 1 cried:

"I haven't long to live. I'm suffering from an incurable disease. - Let Gilbert be with me my last few months on earth. He was a good husband to me for 11 years. Whatever he has done, I love him still.

"Don't think I'm making up the story about my sickness. You can ask my doctor at the Massachusetts General Hospital. He'll tell you I can't live a year."

Wife No. 2 pleaded:
 "I forgive him. I hope the court will let him go back and do what's right by his real wife."

The court ruled:

"The defendant did a rotten thing to two innocent women. Two years in the house of correction."

Tochterman, 29-year-old Cambridge truckman, stood unmoved during the pleas, during the sentence.

CARDIFF, Wales, July 29 (INS)

—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was en route today to St. Donat's castle, where he will spend a quiet week-end recuperating from a slight illness. He was accompanied by his son, Jack, and his physician, Dr. W. G. O'Brien.

A frantic father raced by automobile from Boston to Dennisport today as doctors and firemen there fought to save the life of his four-year-old son, near death from drowning.

The victim was Earl Fontaine, Jr., caught in undertow as he was bathing with his mother and baby sister at a beach of Sea street, Dennisport.

The father, Earl Fontaine, Sr., of Alfred road, Arlington, was notified at his Essex street office.

DOCTORS AID FIGHT

He started at once for Dennisport.

Meantime, three doctors and Dennis firemen, with an inhalator and oxygen tanks, fought desperately to revive the boy.

After injecting a heart stimulant, Dr. Joseph Sternberg believed he detected signs of life.

Artificial respiration was continued with renewed hope.

MOTHER NEAR COLLAPSE

Standing by was the boy's mother, near collapse.

She said her son got out of her sight, while she was watching his baby sister.
